

BEAN DISTINGUISHED LECTURE SERIES

WHY INCLUSION MATTERS

Advancing Educational Equity Through Collective Impact.

March 21st, 2018 6:30pm New Hampshire Institute Of Politics
100 Saint Anselm Drive 03104

DR. SHELBY COOLEY

---

Dr. Cooley's lecture will present research from across her career on the importance of positive cultural identity development, inclusive school climate influences on minority youth achievement, and Collective Impact solutions to improving educational equity in diversifying communities.

Dr. Cooley is the Research Scientist for Community Center for Education Results. As part of a Seattle, WA Collective Impact project to address educational equity, she provides data analysis and policy interpretations for the Road Map Project which seeks to break down institutional silos and bring together community partners-from families and youth-serving organizations to school districts and colleges.

This event is free and open to the public. Sponsored by : Saint Anselm College Psychology Department, The Multicultural Center, Communication, and Sociology Departments, and the Bean Distinguished Lecture Series. Questions? Email: Lbrady@anselm.edu